I am an iOS developer with a strong background in the financial sector and experience working on large-scale projects. I possess deep knowledge of Swift and Objective-C, specializing in the development and maintenance of high-quality applications. My skills include applying agile methodologies to ensure efficiency and quality in projects. Additionally, I have advanced skills in version control using Git, enabling effective source code management and team collaboration. I have expertise in implementing accessibility features in iOS applications, providing an inclusive user experience. Moreover, I have strong skills in communicating with REST APIs, enabling seamless integration of iOS applications with external services. Furthermore, I have specific experience in developing solutions for the financial industry, understanding the needs and requirements of financial institutions. I am accustomed to working on massive projects, tackling complex challenges, and ensuring successful software delivery. I excel in multidisciplinary team environments and constantly seek innovation and technical excellence. My iOS skills include Swift + Objective-C, Architectures (MVVM, MVC, VIPER, Clean Architecture), Firebase, SwiftUI + UIKit, Swift Package Manager + Cocoapods, Modularization, Unit Tests + UI Tests + Snapshot Tests. In addition to my iOS skills, I have knowledge in Unity, C#, Html + CSS, Kotlin, Java Spring and Android.
