Dear Recruiter, I have 7+ years of experience developing iOS apps and a passion for building solutions. My goal is to create applications with intuitive user interfaces. I'm eager to bring my skills and expertise to my Current Company as the Sr. iOS Developer and also iOS Team Lead. As the Sr. iOS Developer and Team lead, I helped implement more than a dozen complex iOS apps. I reviewed client requirements, developed wireframes and worked closely with our product and design teams to bring our clients' vision to life. I have extensive experience in Swift and Objective-C, and an expertise in core iOS frameworks. I can also bring my knowledge and experience working with third party APIs and libraries. I admire how my Current Company is always on the cutting edge of innovation. I will apply the same forward thinking when it comes to developing iOS applications for your Company. I'd love to further discuss how I could contribute to your team. Please give me a call at any time to schedule an interview. Thank you for your consideration. Sincerely, Ashish Surana
